

Structural Steel Project Profile

Institutional Building Frames

Maine Research Library Portland • Maine • USA

This small addition was for the Maine Research Library expansion in Portland, ME. Since 1822, Maine Historical Society has been collecting materials about Maine including books, manuscripts, maps, photographs, etc, and the collections are used by historians, writers, educators, students and genealogists. The renovation updated and transformed the Library into a state-of-the-art research facility, which will allow better care of the collections. The new wing also provided much needed additional storage space.
